THE ANNUAL fall meeting of the DeLand Highlands Betterment League was at Duff's Restaurant in Orange City recently with 54 members of the association present, eight of those who have never attended a meeting.

With Saturday also being the birthday of Al Wilbur, a member, there was a birthday song by the group.

The members discussed the dog control ordinance, past and present problems with animals in the area and drainage problems on Old Daytona Road at both Kepler and Marsh Roads. A committee has been formed to work with Volusia County on the problems.

The league will gather Feb. 2 for the annual election and installation of officers banquet. A new slate of officers for president, vice president and secretary will be selected at that time. Also on the agenda will be a neighborhood watch program.

Members were told at the meeting that anyone needing to find their official address under the new emergency 911 program should contact Tom Burbank of the Volusia County Mapping Division at 736-2700. Also anyone having an emergency should remember to state that DeLand Highlands or Crestland Estates are located east of the DeLand Airport, a request made by both the police and fire authorities.
